

2008-2009 Lecture Series

Transforming the Energy Economy:
Economic Policies for the New Administration

Meeting CO<sub>2</sub> Mitigation Goals: Challenges for the U.S. Electric Power Sector

Dr. Paul Joskow

President, Alfred P. Sloan Foundation

Elizabeth and James Killian Professor of Economics, Department of Economics and Professor of Economics and Management, Sloan School of Management, Massachusetts Institute of Technology

At MIT Professor Joskow has been engaged in teaching and research in the areas of industrial organization, energy and environmental economics, competition policy, and government regulation of industry. He has published six books and over 125 articles and papers in these areas. Professor Joskow is a past-President of the International Society for New Institutional Economics, a Distinguished Fellow of the Industrial Organization Society, a Fellow of the Econometric Society and the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, and a member of the Council on Foreign Relations.

November 5, 2008 | 3:00PM
Global Institute of Sustainability 481
Arizona State University, Tempe campus

This Lecture Series is sponsored by

Center for Environmental Economics & Sustainability Policy